CPD Brief Profile

Center for peace and Development (CPD) is an independent registered non government and non profit civil society organization based at Balochistan. CPD is governed by a board of directors elected by the general body. CPD operation is carried out by professional team through its main and regional office in the province of Balochistan

CPD was founded in December 2000 when a group of like minded young men women working in the development sector in the province felt the gap of a right based civil society organization working exclusively for peace democracy and human rights .Decades old war in Afghanistan influx of narcotics and weapons, and successive undemocratic governments had badly damaged peaceful atmosphere of the province .Deteriorating human rights, social values and level of tolerance has reached to an alarming level where human life has lost its value. The group concluded that unless peace is brought back, human rights are respected and tolerance got nurtured in the society, all other efforts of development might not improve the situation CPD came into being.

CPD is registered under the Voluntary Social Welfare Agencies registration & control ordinance 1961 vide registration number DSW- 1209.
